LOCATION MAP

The site is located at the northern end of a pedestrian plaza in the hill city of Gangtok (1650m above sea level). It is a popular tourist town due to its cooler temperatures than the blistering Indian plains.

The site consists of an abandoned 3 storey building and a surface parking lot. To have such a large amount of land in a prime spot is a colossal waste of space in such a land starved city. The project also works on its surroundings - by having public interventions to improve the quality of life of the Gangtok citizenry as well as the experience of visitors.
